

Alliance High School

Discipline Matrix

Mission

To develop in all students the individual skills, the desire for knowledge, and the personal commitment essential for a successful future.

Philosophy

Alliance High School has adopted practices congruent with those taught through A.P.L.. AHS embraces retraining certain behaviors to ensure the success of each student. It is vital to the school that retraining occurs quickly. We do not punish the student. Instead we address the behavior. Behaviors identified in the discipline matrix are broken into two areas: classroom discipline, and school discipline. While administrators have the final say regarding discipline, many behaviors can be quickly retrained and even avoided by using effective teaching strategies that teachers and other staff members have been trained in. Behavioral choices ultimately reside with the student

Classroom Conduct Infractions

Classroom behaviors are those that will be addressed by the teacher. These behaviors occur in the classroom and require retraining. Classroom behaviors requiring retraining are those that cause the student to lose engagement. Through A.P.L. training we have been instructed in the following techniques regarding response to inappropriate classroom behaviors:

1. Act promptly when inappropriate behavior is observed.
2. Gain the student's attention.
3. Identify the reason the student is being addressed.
4. Determine an appropriate time and place for re-teaching.
 - a. The time will be a time that is valued by the student (before school, after school, during lunch, study hall, etc.).
5. Re-teach the desired behavior, rationale and expected outcomes.
6. Model an example of the appropriate behavior.
7. Have the student practice the behavior while the staff member coaches and provides feedback.
8. Reinforce the student by encouraging them to succeed with this behavior.
9. Remind the student that if there is additional troubles with the behavior that they will be retrained again as long and as frequently as necessary.
10. Thank the student and dismiss them.

School Conduct Infractions

School conduct infractions include those that cannot be taught in the classroom. These behaviors may involve behaviors from keeping the school clean, to behaviors that threaten the safety of an individual. School conduct infractions will involve a point system with more severe infractions incurring higher point accumulations and more severe consequences. Teachers and administration will adhere to the consequences in the following matrix.

In School Suspensions

If a student receives in school suspension, they will be able to complete all classroom assigned work. The student will be addressed at some point during each day of in-school suspension by each of their classroom teachers. Students placed in ISS will be required to leave their cell phone and laptop with administration. All work will be required to be pen and paper. The student will bring home a form signed by teachers stating the activity for the day and the work the student needs to do to make up for missing the class

Disciplinary Point System (100 Point Maximum)

The purpose of the discipline point system is to:

1. Improve the educational environment for students, teachers, parents, and staff.
2. Inform students and parents of rules and policies.
3. Record discipline violations in a systematic way

The discipline point system is a progressive system based upon the belief that an individual does not have the right to infringe upon the rights of others. Also, all people concerned with the school have the responsibility of creating a positive learning environment.

The vehicle used to implement the discipline action will carry a point value. If 100 points are obtained before the end of the school year, then the student will be recommended for expulsion and due process will be followed. The length of suspension or expulsion will carry over into the next semester/year if the school year ends before the suspension or expulsion has been served.

The following categories will be used as a guideline to determine consequences for student misconduct, however, not all behavior can be predicted and/or categorized; therefore, the administration reserves the right to handle situations on an individual basis
